

Bankers Use Radio To Get "The Latest"

Here is a photograph of a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of The Fidelity Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago. The financiers are going over the business of the bank while the radio keeps them informed of financial and market conditions. Left to right may be seen Edward Morris, packer; tuning in, John T. Nyman, Vice-President; Dr. Henry R. Tackler, and E. C. Hart, President of the Bank.

BUSSEYVILLE

Sunday school is progressing nicely at this place.

Charley and Mary Adams and Ruby Pigg attended prayer meeting at Evergreen Saturday night.

Violet Roberts passed through here Sunday enroute to her home on Little Blaine.

Edith Bowe spent Saturday night with her sister, Mrs. Leo Nolen.

Mr. and Mrs. Ambers Skaggs and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Milt Pigg.

Elba Kendall and Ruby Pigg spent Tuesday night at C. C. Hays'.

Several of the boys attended prayer meeting at Smoky Valley Sunday night.

Sorry to hear of the death of Asa Meek's baby of Williamson.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Wellman and little son called on Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wellman Sunday.

Ray and Katherine Carter are visiting relatives at Portsmouth.

Elba Kendall has returned to his home in Zanesville, Ohio, after spending a few days with friends and relatives at this place.

Joe Bussey and Mary Evans of Louisa were out horseback riding Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Terrell Bradley is expecting to visit her two daughters at Whitehouse soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Milt Fugate called on Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Fugate Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Milt Pigg and Mrs. Ambers Skaggs called on Mrs. Carrie Prater Sunday afternoon who is very sick.

Tom Carter called on his best girl Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. F. M. Meek and daughter are visiting relatives at Williamson.

Mrs. Millard Wellman called on her mother at Adams Sunday afternoon.

C. C. Hays was at L. E. Pigg's Saturday.

Sol Carter and L. E. Pigg were in Louisa Saturday.

Lee Adams called on Mary Adams Friday night.

Mrs. Mary Shannon is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Corlida Bussey.

Arnold Bowe called on Hattie Thompson Sunday afternoon.

Bro. Kemper preached at the infirmary Sunday afternoon.

Ruby Pigg and Arline McComas called on Mrs. Leo Nolen Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Belle Carter spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Clarkson.

Mrs. Tugrell Bradley spent Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. Hilbert Clarkson.

Remember the prayer meetings on Friday nights and all come out.

KENTUCKY ROSE BUD.

HICKSVILLE & JATTIE

Rev. Kelley preached at Jattie Saturday night and Sunday.

George Hays is no better at this writing.

Eliza Hays of Huntington is visiting her mother at this place.

Oscar Holbrook and Glimmer Pinkerton have gone to West Virginia to work this summer.

Eva Banks of Webbville, Misses Grace and Hazel Hammond and Rebecca Wright were the Tuesday guests of Edith and Martha Webb.

Mrs. Charley Holbrook and children were the week-end guests of her parents.

Mrs. Bertha Bryant of Caney was calling on her mother Saturday night.

Martha Triplett of Irish creek spent last week with Lucy Holbrook.

Russell, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Thompson, is on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Hutchison and baby left Saturday for a visit to Pikeville.

Golda Thompson was shopping at Webbville Saturday.

Misses Grace and Hazel Hammond called on their aunt, Mrs. G. V. Thompson Saturday.

Edith and Martha Ruth Webb and Rebecca Wright were the week-end guests of friends at Webbville.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hillman spent Saturday night and Sunday at W. M. Hammond's.

An evangelist from Chicago will begin a revival meeting at Jattie the 1st Sunday in June.

There is prayer meeting at Catt every Sunday at 1:30 with large attendance.

Let us hear from "Rambler" soon.

SUMMER LEE.

TWO-SIDED.

Mr. Goode—My wife prefers tea for breakfast, while I prefer coffee.

His Friend—Then I suppose it is necessary to have both?

"Oh, no! We compromise; we have tea."—Answers.

A PINK GERANIUM

By LAURA MONTGOMERY

© 1921, by McClure Newspaper-Syndicate.

"And so," finished Betty breathlessly, "mother and I have decided to buy in some nice suburb near Chicago. I never felt really at home in New York."

"How perfectly lovely," returned Grace, wistful dark eyes on the other's face, "to move into a cottage and feel that the roof is really all your own, to step out into a grassy yard and be free to dig about and set out shrubs. Why, Betty, I wouldn't care if the cottage was only three rooms and far out in the country."

Betty smiled. "Just as romantic as ever," she teased. "You used to talk about a kitchen done in blue and white, with crisp white curtains blowing out from casement windows, and I believe you insisted upon a pink geranium in the pot on the shelf above the sink. Now, for myself, I am quite willing to leave culinary decorations to the servants."

"Shall you keep a maid?" asked Grace, who went downtown daily to an office and clung to a strap twice a day.

Betty's head lifted proudly. "My dear, I haven't had a chance to tell you yet, but that uncle of mother's in Australia died and left us a pot of money. We never cared for the East, and we decided to come back here and get a fine little home where we know everybody."

"Then of course you'll buy in Briar Cliff," said Grace confidently. "I'm determined to get a house on the lake," replied Betty, "and think how you'll enjoy your week-ends out there. We'll golf every spare."

"I don't know how," Grace thought of an old friend of hers, back in that happy past, who had discouraged the learning of the popular game. He had told her how he admired her domestic tastes and she, thinking confidently of the little blue-and-white kitchen, had not learned to play. That Don had not been to call on her for over two months had been a source of keen disappointment to her.

"You'll soon pick it up," laughed Betty. "Suppose we taxi out to Briar Cliff this afternoon and look at houses? Mother is tired out from her trip and wants to rest, but I like to be doing something every minute."

Grace looked about the handsome foyer of the Michigan boulevard hotel with rather awed eyes.

During the swift ride out to the suburb the bracing lake air sent a dash of color into Grace's white cheeks. She scarcely listened to her chum, who chattered on of sunrooms, terraces and refrigerators cooled by electricity.

"At last we can have just what we want," went on Betty, "a low rambling bungalow type."

Grace roused herself. "Won't a bungalow of that type cost a lot of money?"

Betty nodded. "We expect to spend about thirty thousand dollars for it," she said, enjoying Grace's start of amazement, "and—here the tender-hearted youth of her was crystallized into rather shy speech—'I remember how dreadfully we wanted a home of our own, never dreaming that Uncle Don would think of us in his will, and I have made up my mind that I will buy from a young salesman, some one who really needs that commission to get a start.'"

Grace, mentally computing the percent that would be paid to a real estate firm's assistant, gasped. On thirty thousand dollars even the smallest percent usual to the salesman would be considerable. Don had once talked of going into real estate in Briar Cliff and she wondered if he had a little office near the station. "I would love to ask her to let me look around a little before she goes to Van-Murray's office," she thought, "but perhaps Don would be vexed." She had a lively recollection of Don's pride.

Betty did not notice her chum's silence, for already the taxi man had been paid off and Betty entered the office of Van-Murray. She looked about her swiftly and her eager, amused eyes went past the portly man seated at a handsome desk who rose courteously to receive her. The young man by the window did not look up until Betty stood before him and voiced her request. "Wouldn't you prefer to have Mr. Van-Murray show you the list for such a place?"

"No," said the caller briefly, "you will do. I will look at the photographs, for I want style, and my friend," she indicated Grace, who had flushed to a lovely rose, "will look into the drains and culinary arrangements. She is domestic, whereas I—"

she waited as Don paused beside Grace's chair and shook hands with her. "Do you know each other?"

"Have you been out here before, Betty?" she asked confusedly.

Betty nodded calmly. "I remember things," she said cryptically, while Don stared uncomprehendingly. "I remember some mighty good times given me when you had plenty and I had almost nothing."

"Grace," whispered Don two hours later as Betty lingered on the terrace of the little bungalow on the lake's edge, "she has decided to take this if her mother approves. The sale means that I can make a down payment on a little cottage. Shall you be satisfied to start that way?"

"Satisfied," breathed little Grace, her dark eyes on his. "Yea."

"And we'll have a pink geranium on that shelf," teased Betty, returning to the absorbed couple.

ADAMS & LEDOCIO

Rev. Kemper failed to fill his appointment here Saturday night. Prayer meeting was conducted by Allen Curran, of Martinsburg.

Goldie Hughes and little son of Madge called on her sister, Mrs. John Curnutte, Tuesday.

Bertha and Madge Moore of Mattie spent the week-end with their sister, Mrs. Ernest Hayes.

The Misses Hays of Adams attended church here Saturday night.

Thomas Ball passed down our creek Friday en route to Louisa.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hays and children spent Sunday with the latter's parents at Mattie.

Misses Ida and Maude Hays spent Saturday and Sunday with Dovie Hays.

Several from this place and Mattie attended the ball game at Dry Ridge Saturday afternoon.

Glady's Fraley called on Ivory and Mollie Hays Saturday.

Greenie Castle passed through here one day last week.

Miss Ethel Blackburn spent Saturday and Sunday with Gail Curnutte.

Mont Hays called on his best girl here Sunday.

Mrs. Martha Fraley and grand-daughter Sylvia are spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. S. P. Gussler of Louisa.

Misses Mollie and Dorothy Hays were in Louisa recently.

Mattie and Roy McKinstler attended Sunday School at Dry Ridge Sunday.

Mrs. Mart Hays is visiting relatives in Columbus.

Misses Roberta and Madge Hays, who are attending school in Louisa, are expected home soon.

Henry Hall made his usual trip here Sunday.

J. D. Ball was in Louisa last week.

Misses Ivory and Mollie Hays called on Monie Doble Friday afternoon.

There will be church at the Adams school house Sunday morning. Everybody come. Remember Sunday School at Ledocio school house. ONLY YOU.

EAST POINT

Mr. and Mrs. F. Hayes Ramey and children of Auxier are here the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Ramey.

Mrs. J. M. Lemaster of Pikeville is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. M. Cider.

Mrs. G. B. Hughes of Cliff spent Sunday here the guest of relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Auxier and daughter were the all day guests of Mrs. J. C. B. Auxier Sunday.

Mrs. J. N. Belcher and children are visiting relatives at Chapman.

Miss Mollie Ramey and Pomp Ford of Prestonsburg were married here recently at the home of the bride.

East Point and Cliff ball teams crossed bats Sunday, resulting in a score of 12 to 2 in favor of East Point.

Rev. Kit Hyden of Prestonsburg preached at the Baptist church Sunday. A number of folks came down from Auxier to hear him.

Miss Lottie Leek spent the week-end at Van Lear the guest of friends.

Mrs. W. J. Music and children of Junction City were here Friday guests of her mother, Mrs. Malissa Greer.

John Brown Auxier was here Saturday.

Miss Ruth Music entertained a number of her young friends Tuesday evening in honor of her 15th birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson, the sons of Thelma, were here Saturday and Sunday the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Price.

Miss Stella Robinson returned Wednesday from a visit to her friend, Mrs. Earl Blair at Harold.

The Greer children who are in the Masonic home are expected home June 1 to spend their vacation.

ARUAL

There will be church here the 4th Saturday and Sunday by Bro. Ratcliff and Orlis of Pikeville.

John Salyers and Henry Hughes contemplate a visit down south soon.

Born, to Charley Petry and wife, a girl.

Elmer Hughes, Carl Myers and Harry Music make frequent trips to John Layne's.

Bill Pinkerton and wife paid John Layne and wife a visit Sunday.

Sunday school at this place every Sunday.

Mabel, Ruth, Alice and Thelma Layne attended church here Sunday.

Odes Hughes made a trip up Ivey Saturday.

Born, to Bill Pickrell and wife a girl.

Also to Frank Bailey and wife, a girl.

Mrs. John Salyers, Grace Ellis, Mattie Hughes and Celia Hughes were evening guests of Mrs. Charley Petrey Tuesday.

J. K. Stratton and wife visited at Camp Branch Sunday.

Mrs. H. J. Hughes and son were visitors to Louisa Monday.

Let us hear from Ode, Madge and Pikeville.

STRAWBERRY.

Look for this "Inside Information"

Don't just trust to luck or chance when you buy paint. Know exactly what you are getting. Hanna's Green Seal Paint gives you this "inside information." That's why the exact formula is printed on every package of

HANNA'S GREEN SEAL PAINT

It's good paint, containing the best ingredients, and we want you to know it. The formula proves it has quality through and through. The result is more wear and a more satisfactory job all around.

Insist that Green Seal be used on your property. Its use means true economy.

Sold by

Eastern Ky. Lumber & Supply Co.
LOUISA, KENTUCKY

ULYSSES

Church at this place was largely attended Sunday.

Brother Ferguson of Huntington, W. Va., preached a very interesting sermon.

Quite a large crowd of boys and girls of this place attended meeting at Chestnut Grove Sunday evening.

Uncle Hurl Bryant passed up our creek Sunday and called on Madge Borders.

Lowmansville boys say the prettiest girls live at Ulysses and the Ulysses girls admit that there are some handsome boys at Lowmansville.

Mrs. Alice Fraley is visiting relatives at Louisa.

W. B. Borders was attending to business matters in Louisa Monday.

Uncle Davis Burton is very ill at this writing.

Miss Mandy Lyons and Ella Young were the dinner guests of Miss Misa Borders Sunday.

Dow Austin of Lower Ulysses lost a fine horse last week.

Sis Kazee and two daughters were visiting Mrs. Henry Griffith Sunday.

Mrs. John Puckett is going to Catlettsburg to spend a few days with her daughter.

We are glad to say the fruit is not all killed at this place.

TWO LONESOME GIRLS.

"Our Home Offer"

The Ohio Farmer

The Ohio Farmer will keep you thoroughly posted on all the important questions now up for decision—questions of vital importance to you and your business. Is it "Your own home farm paper"—the one that everyone knows has been with the farm organization movement from the very beginning.

YOUR HOME NEWSPAPER

Is a valuable asset to your community. It is replete with state, county and local news of interest and is a booster for the community and its local merchants. You should subscribe for it and help it by patronizing its advertising columns.

BIG SANDY NEWS, One Year
The Ohio Farmer, One Year
Both for Only $2.00

Big Sandy News,

Louisa, Ky.

